Mangalyaan Mission
Marking India's first venture into the interplanetary space, MOM will explore and observe Mars surface features, morphology, mineralogy and the Martian atmosphere for methane search for methane in the Martian atmosphere will provide information about the possibility of life on the planet.

The enormous distances involved in interplanetary missions present a demanding challenge; developing and mastering the technologies essential for these flights will open endless possibilities for space exploration. After leaving Earth, the probe will have to endure the interplanetary space for 300 days before Mars capture.
